

Helping our clients build a solid risk management foundation

Ironwood's Construction Practice Group understands the daily challenges contractors face.

Labor shortages, inherent exposure assumed in a contract, statutory changes, claim related concerns such as construction defect or employee injury – our clients rely on our team of professionals to create and monitor effective risk management strategies that protect their company and reputation.

Whether it's placement experience from guaranteed cost, CCIP/wrap up, or captive programs, we provide proactive risk mitigation services and creative insurance solutions to manage our client's construction risks and allow them to make decisions based on their goals and objectives.

Experience mod rating analysis

Workers' compensation is one of your largest expenses, and managing claims can be a frustrating process. Our claims consultants help manage the process to decrease your experience modification rating, lower your cost, and give your firm the ability to bid projects more competitively.

Loss control & safety

We strive to help you develop safe, efficient work environments where you can maintain quality, production, and profitability for your business by effectively lowering your experience modification rating.

Surety

We have a national reputation for solving complicated surety problems. Our bond specialists strive in handling the time-sensitive and sometimes complicated process of securing surety bonds so you can focus on running your business.

Cyber security

With blueprints, project plans, employee data, payroll, and benefits information being stored more frequently online, cyber security is a prevalent coverage in the construction industry. Our team of cyber liability specialists works with your team to assess potential risks, tailor an insurance program, and develop a recovery plan after an incident occurs.

Environmental

MMA Environmental understands the environmental, health, and safety exposures threatening your industry. Our services help protect your assets, fill coverage gaps, protect you from subcontractor liability, and minimize the effects of severe pollution loss.

We're more than Risk Management

We offer all lines of business insurance and employee health and benefits. Our technical specialists ensure you aren't missing coverage or buying duplicate coverage and are assuming the right amount of risk for your comfort level.
